A TOAST TO GAIA
A Toast to Gaia takes you on a tour around Edinburgh, showcasing the community of independent bars and restaurants that have a keen eye on our future planet.

They know a thing or two when it comes to sourcing the very best of what the drinks industry has to offer when it comes to climate-friendly and sustainable offerings and they’re here to tell you about it.

We welcome you to come and explore this very special, and vital, sustainable revolution with us. Ask for the #EdSciFest drink at our participating venues and talk to your bartender about the story behind their creation from 19 March–24 April.

A Night with Edinburgh Science Festival

Phenomenal Fungi

ASSEMBLY ROXY
WED 13 APR | 8PM | 2 HOURS
£16/£14
They’re all around us. They’re in the air and in our bodies. They cover miles and contain multitudes. They are delicious, dangerous and vital to life on earth. Some serve as the neural nets of forests, some have miraculous medical properties. For the foragers, foodies and fungi-philes try mushroom cocktails and canapes provided by award-winning wild flavour innovators Buck and Birch.

Climate Cocktails

ASSEMBLY ROXY
FRI 15 APR | 8PM | 2 HOURS
£20/£18
How can we craft a perfect tipple that doesn’t cost the earth? Spirits writer and whisky expert Becky Paskin hosts an evening featuring Iain McPherson, Miran Chauhan and and flavour innovators Buck and Birch. Together they will showcase cutting-edge techniques and taste sensations with delicious cocktails, zero-waste canapés and visions of a green future for drinks and the places that serve them.
